SHUMAY CLAIMS SAVING FOR YEAR

Agriculture Secretary Says Operating Expenses Of Department Less.

Estimates Decrease at $500 a Day in Face of Increased Activities.

He estimates the saving in expenditures at $500 a day. The following comparative statement was given out by him Saturday:

"The cost of operating the department of agriculture for the last three years in round numbers was $25,000 for the year ending June 30, 1922; $30,000 for the year ending June 30, 1923; $30,000 for the year ending June 30, 1924.

"This economy of approximately $500 a day in the operating and general expenses of the department is worthy of note, inasmuch as there was no falling off in the business of the department.

"The total licenses issued for hotels, restaurants and the like were 11,077 in 1923; 11,067 in 1924, and 13,600 in 1924, an increase of nearly 2,000.

"The total inspections were 14,403 in 1922 and 12,438 in 1924. Sanitary orders were needed in less than one-half of 1 per cent of these inspections, showing sanitary conditions nearly perfect.

"Gas and oil inspections in car-load lots were 16,079 in 1922 and 15,568 in 1924.

"Total inspections in 1922 were 30,482, and in 1924 the number was 31,001.

"On tuberculosis eradication, the total number of cattle tested for the previous biennium was 230,000, and the total number for the last biennium was 270,000. In ten previous bienniums one county, Clay, was completed under the area test.

Today Studebaker proves, in its new Standard Six Duplex model, that a six-cylinder car of fine quality, great power, plenty of room and impressive appearance can be made and marketed at a price of $1145.

Today Studebaker proves in its new Special Six and its Big Six Duplex models that the ultimate in all the essential features of quality in five- and seven-passenger cars can be made and marketed at a price of $1495 and $1875 respectively.

And this is possible only because Studebaker cars are made in one of the most comprehensive industrial plants in this country, 70 per cent of which is new within the last six years.

Every modern method of manufacture and long experienced management are available for the production of Studebaker automobiles.

Today Studebaker proves that the highest grade closed car bodies—framed in selected hard woods, cushioned with the best cushion work upholstered in fine mohair fabrics and fitted with expensive appointments—can be made and marketed on superlatively good chassis at moderate prices.

This is made possible by the new $10,000,000 Studebaker closed body plants. Studebaker designs and builds all of its closed bodies in one of the best equipped and most modern body plants in the industry.

The Three New Chassis

THE STUDEBAKER STANDARD SIX—113 in. wheelbase 5-passenger. Engine, 3 1/2 x 4 1/2, 50 b.h.p.—with 6 different bodies, including Duplex-Phaeton, Duplex-Roadster, Coupe Roadster, Coupe, Sedan, and Berline.

THE STUDEBAKER SPECIAL SIX—120 in. wheelbase 5-passenger. Engine, 3 1/2 x 5, 65 b.h.p.—with 5 different bodies, including Duplex-Phaeton, Duplex Roadster, Victoria Sedan, and Berline.

THE STUDEBAKER BIG SIX—127 in. wheelbase, 7-passenger. Engine 3 1/2 x 5 1/2, 75 b.h.p.—with 4 different bodies, including Duplex-Phaeton, Coupe, Sedan, and Berline.

The Ten New Closed Bodies

COMPLETELY NEW BODIES—each car a masterly expression of modern style, yet distinctly original in beautiful lines—individual, conservative, impressively elegant but crisp enough in its departure from imitation to be entirely distinctive.

Three completely new chassis!... 15 completely new bodies!

Completely new lines! Marvelous new performance

Completely new open-closed car!

Completely new radiators, new fenders, new lamps, new seating comfort, new finish, new colors in lacquer finish, three improved engines

Real balloon tires, not low-pressure cords. Sizes—21" x 5.25" to 20" x 7.30".

New Studebaker automatic hydraulic 4-wheel brakes—optional.

New values, never before equaled—even by Studebaker!

The Five New Duplex Bodies

(A new type of car originated by Studebaker to take the place of the open car)

SO ENTIRELY NEW and so different from any other body ever made before that a new name had to be created—the DUPLEX.

The upper structure is shaped in pressed steel and covered with the finest water-proof fabric. The steel construction permits the use of another radical Studebaker creation the new roller enclosing curtains. There is the permanent beauty and durability of the steel top plus the instant convenience of the roller curtains.

Thus Studebaker engineers have solved the open-closed car problem.

The buyer who wants the airiness and practical convenience of the open car and who also wants the comfort, protection and beauty of the closed car can now get both in one car and at the price of an open car.

One moment the new Studebaker Duplex is a beautiful open car—a touch of the hand to the over-lapping roller curtains and it is a snug weather-tight closed car.

Balloon Tires

Genuine and full size balloon tires on all models. Every part that functions with the tires has been specially designed for balloon tire equipment—steering gear, steering knuckles, spindles and springs, even the tenders.

New Lacquer Finish

The Standard Six closed bodies are beautifully finished in semi-glaze satin lacquer. The hood and lower panels are in light gray, the upper panels in darker gray. Hair line parallel striping in oriental red. Burnished nickel radiators, jet black fenders, light golden finished natural wood wheels and big balloon tires are contrasting touches.

The Standard Duplex Models are finished in glossy jet enamel—lasting, lustrous and wear resisting.

The Special Six and the Big Six Duplex models are in soft satin lacquer with dark blue hoods and bodies striped in light blue and ivory. Here too the sparkle is added with burnished nickel radiators and light natural wood wheels in contrast with jet black tenders and big, black balloon tires.

More Power

The universally famous Studebaker engine is more than ever a peer among power plants. The crankshaft is heavier. ALL surfaces are perfectly machined to exact dimension and balance. The bearings are larger.

The engine is in unit with the clutch and transmission. There is a force feed lubrication system with clean, strained oil always in reserve. There are many changes and improvements which result in MORE POWER, MORE QUIETNESS and SMOOTHNESS and STILL BETTER PERFORMANCE in every way.

New Brakes

Larger, more powerful, simpler and much easier operated two wheel brakes. An entirely new emergency brake is operated from the instrument board instantly convenient to the driver's hand where it simplifies the control and frees the floor board from the old style lever. It acts on the propeller shaft. There is uniform pressure at each wheel—equalized through the rear axle.

The regular two wheel Studebaker brakes with the simplicity, safety and great braking power are entirely adequate.

But Studebaker 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes (with disc wheels) can be furnished as optional equipment on all models at extra charge as desired.

Studebaker 4-Wheel Brakes have three exclusive features not found on any other system in this country.

1 Braking pressure is furnished by hydraulic power automatically developed. A light touch to the braking pedal controls its great force like a touch to the throttle controls the power of the engine. This feature will appeal instantly to women.

2 The front wheels cannot lock.

3 There are only two adjustments required—one at each rear wheel. The front brakes are permanently adjusted at the factory. The oil in the transmission is used to generate the hydraulic power, the action of the gears and the pump keep it in circulation: it cannot congeal or freeze. Braking power is always instantly ready—in winter as well as in summer!

New Ease of Operation

New Ease of Gear Shifting—New power in braking, a touch to the pedal exerts a giant's strength at the rear wheels—New clutch action soft as velvet—A new steering gear and steering knuckles designed for balloon tires—A new grouping on the dash, including ALL the usual instruments plus a gasoline gauge that always works accurately.

Lighting Control Switches—all on the steering wheel—instantly handy.

Automatic Spark Control—No manual attention required so the lever is eliminated. Automatically governed to all speeds with the precision of machinery.

And the Details

The new cars are longer and lower to the ground. The line from the radiator to the rear is nearly straight. The wheelbase of all models is increased.

The fenders are much wider and deeper crowned to cover the width of the tires. They fit more closely over the wheels. The rear fenders are long and gracefully curved into the running boards.

The radiators are high and set low in the frames and convex curved just below the filler cap. The design is strikingly original and beautifully distinctive.

Entirely new head lamps and cowl parking lamps designed by Studebaker—artistically appropriate and in perfect keeping with the originality of the body and fender design.

Deeper, stiffer frames, more cross members; shorter, flatter springs for balloon tires. All bodies lower all roomier, better and more comfortably cushioned. Seats are lower, backs and sides are higher.

Look Forward Into Next Year

The new Studebakers here today! And no matter how sweeping your ideas of what a new model should be this car will satisfy you. It will thrill you with the very newness and originality of its beautiful lines!

You may not be in the market now or even this year. But to see the new Studebaker is to look forward into next year—and the year after! SEE IT TODAY!

RICKENBACKER TO BE OFFICIAL CAR

Ace of Aces' Auto to Meet World Flyers At Points Enroute Across U. S.

It will be recalled that before starting from San Diego on their world encircling flight, the group of American aviators nominated the Rickenbacker as official car of the expedition.

This was in appreciation of the great record made by Captain E. V. Rickenbacker, America's ace of aces, himself one of the world's greatest aviators.

At every landing field on this flyers looked for on stepping out of great journey, the first thing their planes was a car with the insigna Uncle Sam's Hat in-the-Ring on the radiator.

Even in England, when they glided to the ground at Craydon just outside London, they found the faithful Rickenbacker Six ready to take them to their hotel.

"Where and when do we eat," were the first words of Lieut. Smith after Rickenbacker's representative had extended the congratulations of his chief.

Record Breaking Jumps.

Then came the series of record breaking jumps over seas with water landings.

There Uncle Sam's cruisers waited for them.

But at the first land field—Boston—they again found the speedy Rickenbacker waiting. The sight of that car has come to mean food and a place to sleep for us," says Lieut. Smith.

In a telegram to Rickenbacker under date of September 6, General Patrick, chief of America's air forces, again nominated Rickenbacker as the official car and suggested that all Rickenbacker dealers along the line of the flight cross-continental flight get in touch with the "C. O.'s" of landing fields and have cars ready to receive the flyers. It is also requested that, should any forced landing be made at other than the regular scheduled fields, the nearest Rickenbacker at the disposal of the party, which hasten to place two or three cars comprising three pilots and three aides.

Moore Company Notified.

Stops will be made at Boston, New York, Washington, Dayton, Chicago, Omaha, St. Joseph, in Oklahoma, Texas and California, and from thence to Seattle, 77 which point the flight officially started and will end. From here to their home in San Diego the party will proceed and at the end will be met by the same car in he same hands of the same men, Dewey Rickenbacker, who last bade them God-speed on the greatest trip accomplished since the world began.

Major Churchill, commanding officer of the air service at Omaha, has notified the Nebraska Motor company of Lincoln, distributors of Rickenbacker cars, that he will advise them when the flyers are due in Omaha. Rickenbacker cars will be sent to the flying field for the accommodation of the world fliers.

Van Denbark Sells And New Owners to Step In On Monday

W. F. Boys and H. W. Ramey Saturday announced the purchase of the Van Denbark garage at 1719 N. street where they will take possession Monday morning. They will conduct the business under the firm name of Boys and Ramey.

It is the intention of the new owners to do general repair work but they will specialize on the Hudson, Dodge and Essex, the plant being equipped for that kind of work. Both day and night service will be featured, according to Boys, who announced the closing of the company for the purchase of the Van Denbark business.

The new owners of the garage have been in charge of the service department with J. H. Markel during the last five and one-half years and are well known among automobile owners, and throughout the city generally.

Maxwell-Chrysler Demand Increases

Weekly telegrams from all Maxwell-Chrysler district offices indicate that in the three weeks ending August 16, 1924, the sale of Chrysler cars exceeded the record of any other three weeks since the introduction of the Chrysler Six. Retail sales of the Chrysler in August are running 13 per cent ahead of June, despite the fact that June is usually considered one of the best and August one of the poorest selling months of the year.

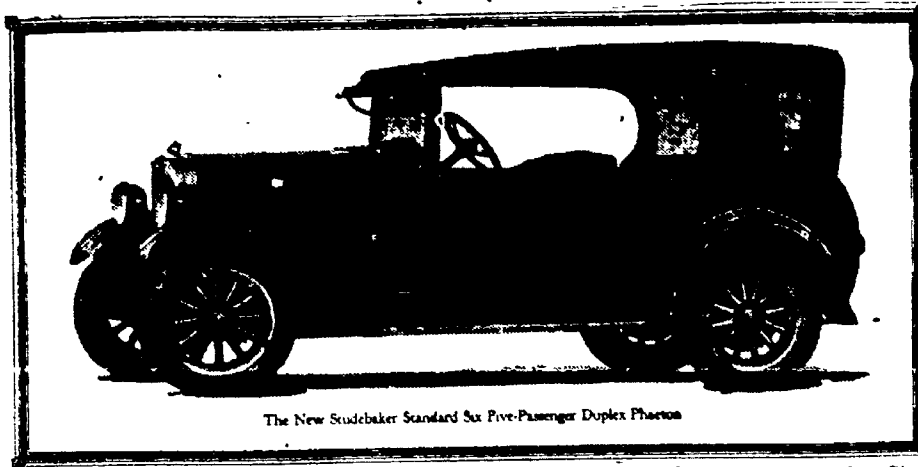

Dealer stocks have been brought up to normal in the past four months so that the Chrysler factory will now be relieved of the burden of bringing them up in the face of an unprecedented retail demand. The great volume of retail business insures steady production at the Chrysler factory for the balance of the year.

Maxwell sales are not showing the customary August let up.

Retail sales in August as well as in July have been running higher each week and Maxwell dealer stocks are only six days sales above the low stock figure of a year ago. In the past four months, dealer's stock have been reduced 50 per cent. This means that increased factory output will be necessary to meet current retail demand.

Front wheels of a car are sometimes ruined by allowing them to scrape against the inside of the fenders. The wheels can be adjusted to cut so far and no further.

New Studebaker Sensation

The New Studebaker Standard Six Five-Doorer Duplex Phaeton

The big news of the week in the automobile world is the Studebaker announcement of new models.

There are fifteen entirely new Studebaker models, and each is a complete refinement of the previous line. The designs are new—something never before seen on an American automobile. Studebaker has again pioneered in distinctive vehicle building.

A creation originated by Studebaker, which, it is believed, will supersede the present day open car is the new Duplex body. This new model is an open car which can be converted magically in five seconds into a waterproof, snug and dry closed car of unsurpassing beauty. The Duplex is an outstanding sensation.

This car has unusually beautiful lines, the finest Spanish leather upholstery and an unusual number of equipment features.

New Standard Six which takes the place of the former Light Six and while it follows mechanically the general design of that car it has a new and larger motor, the entire car is larger, heavier and much more beautiful, and has much more room. Of course the new Duplex body entirely supersedes the former open touring car and open roadster bodies, not only in the new Standard Six but in the other two models, the Special Six and the Big Six.

On each of the fifteen new models being introduced by the Studebaker company, real balloon tires are standard equipment. Studebaker was among the very first of automobile manufacturers to introduce genuine balloon tires as regular equipment. Instead of the compromise on low pressure cord tires Studebaker has gone all the way and offered the public big genuine balloon tires on 20-inch and 21-inch wheels.

Car Designed For Balloons. Not only has Studebaker adopted the balloon type tires, but Studebaker also is probably the first motor car maker in America to begin building his cars from the standpoint of appearance when equipped with bigger and better two-wheel brakes than ever and with an entirely new emergency brake which operates on the property new Standard Six which takes the place of the former Light Six and while it follows mechanically the general design of that car it has a new and larger motor, the entire car is larger, heavier and much more beautiful, and has much more room. Of course the new Duplex body entirely supersedes the former open touring car and open roadster bodies, not only in the new Standard Six but in the other two models, the Special Six and the Big Six.

No Life Wasted By This Battery
—its life starts after you buy it

We are talking about the new Willard Charged Bone-Dry Battery. This very different battery comes dry. No acid in it. We keep it until you say, "Put the battery in my car," then we fill it. It is a charged battery. Filling starts its life.

"A battery that doesn't start its life until you get it, can't waste any of its life before you get it," says Little Ampere.

Auto Notes

About Fuses. When supplying individual fuses for the various circuits, the capacity of the fuses required will depend upon the amount of current which the circuit will draw.

Economy in Fire Extinguishers. If the car is insured against fire, the addition of the fire extinguisher will reduce the premium on the insurance almost enough to pay for the extinguisher, sometimes during the first year.

To Remove Rust From Tools. Rust can be kept off tools by dissolving one-half ounce of camphor in one pound of melted lard, remove scum, add enough fine black lead (graphite) to give an iron color. Clean the tools and smear with this mixture. After 24 hours rub clean with soft linen cloth.

Pointers Against Skidding. To prevent skidding a number of points should be observed in both operation and care of a car. Before venturing out in slippery streets with a car, the engine should be in smooth running order, the clutch should disengage without suddenly grabbing. The brakes should be adjusted so that they take hold sufficiently to stop the car, but will not lock the wheels except when additional pressure is exerted. They should always take hold evenly at both wheels, because if they do not a sure swerve of the machine to the side of the tightest brake will result. A car which does not have both front and rear wheels in line will not efficiently hold the road in wet weather, especially when brakes are applied. This latter trouble may be due to sprung axles, front or rear, rear axle housing out of true, or a sprung frame.

Mud from a nearby ditch or gutter is an effective extinguisher if an automobile catches fire.

Excessive heat will cause a piston to seize or expand to such an extent as to become wedged in the cylinders.

Big Praise from Big Men

Lanchester Balancer Adopted by Willys-Knight, Acclaimed

Eminent mechanical experts are impressed by Willys-Knight's new refinement, the Lanchester Balancer, in eliminating vibration. Read these comments.

Glenn Curtiss
Famous Airplane Inventor

"It is surprising. I drove the car (Willys-Knight Sedan) at all speeds up to 50 miles an hour and found absolutely no vibration."

W. E. Best

Works Manager, Remington Cash Register

"The smoothness of the motor was a revelation. The driver increased the speed from 15 miles an hour to approximately 45 miles and, as far as I could detect, with no vibration. It would seem that the balancer is doing the trick and gives six-cylinder operation as far as smoothness is concerned."

Hiram P. Maxim
President, Maxim Silencer Company

"The Lanchester Balancer certainly takes out the vibration. It makes the motor smoother than most of the six and eight-cylinders on the road today."

Maurice Olley
Rolls-Royce, Production Engineer

"From the demonstration there is no doubt that the elimination of the inherent harmonic vibration, by means of the rotating balancer, has been attained in practice to a degree which is very satisfactory to the passenger."

Willys-Knight scores again. To its famous sleeve-valve engine, that improves with use, it adds a perfection long sought by many motor cars—the elimination of vibration. Test it today—it will amaze you.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

A marked smoothness characterizes the performance of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

In keeping with the policy of constant improvement, effective measures have been taken to minimize vibration. Applied to the body, engine, clutch, brakes, and other vital units, these refinements add immeasurably to the comfort of travel over boulevards and country roads.

The effect is so pronounced, in fact, that it is entirely fitting to classify smooth performance as one of the outstanding attributes of Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

LEOPOLD-LOEB TO STAY AT JOLIET EVEN IF INSANE

To Be Treated At Penitentiary If They Lost Their Minds, Warden Says.

Bid Each Other Goodbye Behind Bars—May Not Meet Again For Months.

TO STAY IN PRISON. JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 13.—Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb will remain in the Illinois state penitentiary here until they die—providing they are not pardoned—Warden John L. Whitman said today.

Should the slayers of Bobby Franks lose their minds because of their confinement here, they will be treated in the penitentiary and not sent to the state asylum for the criminal insane at Chester, Ill., Whitman said.

"We take care right here of all those who go insane," the warden explained. "Even if they are violent, we keep them. The only cases which we send to Chester are those of incurable insanity, and similar diseases."

Prison Life Begins. JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 13.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, former dapper collegians serving life sentences here for the slaying of 14-year old Bobby Franks, tonight had settled down into the drab routine of prison life.

The slight break in the prison activities, thus far, was that the boys had been told of the rules under which they must live for the remainder of their natural lives; they had had their first experience in earning their daily bread by the sweat of their brows; and they had been assigned to permanent cells in different parts of the prison.

Leopold, or rather Convict No. 9,305, was sent to the east wing and lodged in Cell 218 on Gallery 7. Loeb, now Convict 9,306, was given quarters in the west wing in Cell 238 on Gallery 6. For the present, at least, they will not be assigned cellmates.

There they will spend their nights alone. In the daytime between 7:30 and 11:30 and 1:30 and 4:20 they will be at work. Babe wrapping rattan and Loeb making chairs. When winter comes the working hours will be shortened slightly so that dusk will find them fed and looked up for the night.

Given Instructions. Instruction in prison rules was given them by Captain Bigford, receiving and discharging officer. His talk was brief and he told them if they did their work well they would be all right.

Loeb was spokesman for himself and Leopold. He assured the captain that they intended to do the right thing, to obey all orders and to do everything according to the rules. The two famous prisoners then bid each other goodbye, perhaps until July 4 next, when prison restrictions are lifted so much.

Each may catch glimpses of the other in the assemblies or in marching, but before that time neither will be permitted to speak to the other.

Loeb again took the lead at the parting. When Captain Bigford said, "and now, boys, you are to be separated. If you wish to say anything to each other."

Loeb held out his hand. "Goodbye, Babe," he said. "Goodluck, old man," said Leopold hoarsely, as he took Duke's hand, clung to it a moment, then turned away as a keeper tapped him on the shoulder.

Loeb Led Away.

Loeb was led off in another direction.

The first break in the prison routine will come for No. 9,305 and 9,306 in about two weeks when they will be permitted to receive visitors. Members of the families of the slayers, accompanied by Attorney Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel, will be the first callers. Darrow has informed the warden Mr. and Mrs. Loeb are in seclusion at their home in Charlevoix, Mich., resting and preparing for the ordeal of their first visit. Darrow also is resting at Charlevoix as the warden of the loebes.

Illinois Governor To Pass On Fate of Chicago Boy, 19, Who Is Sentenced To Pay With Life

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Governor Len Small will be asked next week to pass on the fate of Bernard Grant, 19-year-old product of the Stockyards district.

The governor's answer will determine whether there is one law for the rich and one law for the poor. Attorney Thomas Swanson declared.

"Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, sons of millionaires were sentenced to life in prison because they are under 21 years old."

"Grant was convicted in connection with the murder of a policeman. The jury directed a sentence of hanging and it was accepted and made effective by Justice Hebel. The Supreme court affirmed the sentence and unless Governor Small intervenes, Grant will hang on October 17."

Public opinion is rallying to the boy's cause. Swanson reported today that messages of encouragement are pouring in from all parts of the country. From other sources it was learned that a member of the Leopold-Loeb group is taking a keen interest in the case and may contribute to a defense fund.

Grant's parents are almost penniless. His father lost both legs in an accident. At the age of 14 young Grant was forced to abandon school—after finishing the seventh grade—to help support his family. He worked as a messenger, a law clerk, hard labor and his first in December of 1922 for the murder.

Cites Other Cases. "Gee, I didn't have anything to do with the killing, but I betcha if home to Waukegan that the boys were to receive no special favors, not even the privilege of using tobacco during the day."

West Means Nothing. "No tobacco will be allowed Leopold and Loeb at Joliet during the day," Green said. "The wealth of the world is not able to them to have any privileges that are forbidden to others."

"The only thing they will be permitted to smoke or use tobacco is at night when they are in their cells. They will be permitted to see visitors every two weeks, the same as accorded to other prisoners and if relatives or friends bring in food or fruit they will be compelled to eat it at the time it is brought in, while guards look on."

"If they behave themselves they will be given good treatment—if they don't they will go to the hole."

THIRD PARTY MEN TO STUMP STATE

Congressman J. A. Frazier of Wisconsin, who went gunning for Secretary Mellon on the treasury in the last session of congress, is among the speakers who will come to Nebraska in the interest of La Follette and Wheeler. Announcement to this effect has been made from La Follette headquarters in Lincoln, but the dates have not yet been fixed.

Senator Frazier of North Dakota will talk for La Follette at Central City on Tuesday afternoon, and he will be at Fairbury Wednesday afternoon and evening. Frazier was the first non-partisan league governor of North Dakota, being later is-

This is turning an old phrase, face about, but modern methods of eating have made this revision possible. General John J. Pershing Is Retired from Army Life; Old Lincoln Friends Speculate on His Next Field of Endeavor

BY LULU MAE COE

Has out of a job.

The man who was general of the American army is no longer in command.

He wasn't incompetent. He didn't waste his time. He wasn't disinterested. Those aren't the reasons why they had to discharge him.

A sterner mandate than any employer could give. His services will no longer be necessary after Friday, September 12.

Time has put the general out of the American army. Out of a job.

Years have terminated his service. If he could handle the clock as cleverly as he can handle an army, John Joseph Pershing wouldn't have awakened this Sunday morning out of work.

If he had been able to outwit the calendar as easily as he outwitted the enemy, John Joseph Pershing would be a general with a job instead of a commander with no army.

Put sixty-four years in sixty-four years in the army and General John Pershing, who for forty-two years has molded his life in army rules, has obeyed its last regulation. When he awakened yesterday at dawn, he knew that his active army life had come to an end. Someone else is taking up the power he laid down and General John Joseph Pershing, soldier, has become General John Joseph Pershing citizen.

Probably this Sunday morning seems a little strange to him. He is remembering that Monday will not differ materially from all the other days and that every day is Sunday so far as duties devolve upon him. He is probably wondering what the rest of the years will bring.

Will Have Leisure

He is remembering that he is to have days and days of leisure. He is thinking of the work on his father's farm when he was in his teens and of his schooling and his school teaching and the West Point days and the days in Lincoln when he made a crack company out of green farmer boys and of his law studies and of those days when he was an Indian fighter and of those in Mexico and of those overseas months—and he knows that leisure will seem very odd. Something like sudden silence after deafening sound perhaps.

John Joseph Pershing is to have more leisure than he has had since his little boy days in Lincoln when he was a "sissy" but was just Johnny Pershing, who adored apple turnovers and played ball in the dusty back streets. He has no more for him to do but to enjoy his life. He has lived too active a life to do nothing.

Leisure—John Joseph Pershing, citizen, probably finds it a curious word and a word of curious thought. Fighting—that has been his life. And between the two is a very long way.

Has been a teacher

His first school was at Prairie Mound, Mo. when he was eighteen. It wasn't much less strenuous than his military life. Those were the days when he had to teach the boys and intimidate the threatening parents by mental if not moral suasion. He taught mathematics at the university during his days as a commander. He was busy discouraging laziness and shiftness. He was military instructor at West Point, after the Nebraska Teacher and Student.

Has been a student

He studied at the Kirksville Normal school in Missouri in the year when he thought he would be a lawyer. He is a West Point graduate of course. He studied law at the university when he was a teaching mathematics and instructing in military science.

And he has been a long time soldier.

He was with General Nelson A. Miles expedition against Geronimo and his Apaches. He joined the volunteer service and earned a major's commission in the field in the Spanish American war but returned upon his return to the United States. About three years later he was sent to the Philippines to convince the Moros of the usefulness of the United States. He was a major in the Philippine army and a lieutenant colonel in the United States army.

Brilliant Record

From the far East General Pershing was again sent to the Philippines and later to the United States. He was a major in the United States army and a lieutenant colonel in the Philippine army. He was a major in the Philippine army and a lieutenant colonel in the United States army.

The general ship to become president after which he indulged in a sad funeral venture. He wrote his memoirs to relieve his present quiet life after his thirtieth at which he was mentioned in the presidential nomination in 1916. The general was a general at his death.

And Pershing—the fifth of the illustrious names—what shall be his future? He has been invited to the presidency of large corporations. He has the privilege of joining, will west show. The movies would like him. He probably will have more offers than he could use in a whole life time. He has been mentioned for a hundred different things.

His disposal of his leisure years no one can forecast. That they will be leisure after forty-two years of the most strenuous living none can say. Yet his friends ponder on the subject these friends who knew him when he was Lieutenant Pershing, commandant of the university cadets and who have remained his friends through more than thirty years.

W. L. Hardy, who moved in the same social circles with the then lieutenant Pershing, thinks he might do several things.

Personally Mr. Hardy explained I should like to see him devote considerable time perhaps the next five years to his memoirs. I from remarks he made when he was in Lincoln the last time I either think he will devote the next year to the writing of his book.

For that—whatever he does will have to be something dignified and in keeping with his position in the world.

Ed. H. to see him become connected with one of the great universities of the country perhaps as a lecturer on military science. His tastes are inclined to teaching. You know he taught in the university and any college would certainly benefit from his knowledge and experience.

His splendid organizing ability could be used to advantage by one of the eastern banks. Those banks perhaps the National City bank of New York city on the creditable trust of some of the great men in an advisory capacity who have a knowledge of world affairs and Pershing could admirably fill such a position.

I don't believe he would care for a cabinet position for he was never mixed in politics and a cabinet position would embroil him in political life.

Suggest Professorship

Teaching has occupied a large part of Pershing's life and his friends feel that he might like to take down the sword for the chair. Mark W. Woods another friend of long standing suggested a college position for General Pershing, among other things.

How ever a little while ago for his friend would be the presidency of a large international corporation where again Pershing's knowledge of world affairs and his universalism also suggested a radio corporation as one possibility partly because its modernity it would allow an extended growth under Pershing's guiding hand.

I would really like to see him become president of one of the large eastern colleges or one of the prominent state universities. His tastes rather lead him in that way and he could be very successful.

Of course he is a lawyer but it would be the legal profession now. I think he might accept the post of secretary of war if it were offered to him.

He might become an ambassador to one of the larger foreign courts. England possibly or Japan but I think he would really like to return to Lincoln to make his home.

Among Pershing's other Lincoln friends is John T. Dorgan but Mr. Dorgan has rather different ideas of the general's probable future than some of his former associates. Mr. Dorgan speaks forcibly when he says:

If Daves and Coolidge are elected and want General Pershing to have a place in the cabinet or to accept an ambassadorship I am certain he would accept for Pershing would do almost anything in the world. He was a soldier at heart, so close friends are they.

However I really think he will be retired in the precise meaning of the term and I do not think he will take up any active occupation. I think he will do some writing but will not enter the business world. He will probably devote a great deal of his time to his son for he is devoted to him and very much interested in supervising his education.

'Not in Business

I Robert Joyce and General Pershing have been friends for many years since those first Lincoln days of Pershing and I do not want to let him enter the business world.

I would prefer to see General Pershing in an executive position in preference to or in the business world. He is a figure of war and he is a figure of peace. He is a figure of peace and he is a figure of war. He is a figure of peace and he is a figure of war.

American commander to lead American troops on European soil with out having seen Pershing. Nor had Newton D. Baker ever seen the leader of the A. E. F. His record spoke for him. At the close of the war he was given the full rank of general.

This Sunday morning those strenuous days are over. Life is only leisure now. General Pershing has been teaching student soldier. He will be—what?

He is the fifth man to have this honor since it was created for Washington in 1799. Washington did not live long enough to enjoy his honors and his leisure period was brief. L. S. Grant retired from Teaching has occupied a large part of Pershing's life and his friends feel that he might like to take down the sword for the chair. Mark W. Woods another friend of long standing suggested a college position for General Pershing, among other things.

How ever a little while ago for his friend would be the presidency of a large international corporation where again Pershing's knowledge of world affairs and his universalism also suggested a radio corporation as one possibility partly because its modernity it would allow an extended growth under Pershing's guiding hand.

I would really like to see him become president of one of the large eastern colleges or one of the prominent state universities. His tastes rather lead him in that way and he could be very successful.

Of course he is a lawyer but it would be the legal profession now. I think he might accept the post of secretary of war if it were offered to him.

He might become an ambassador to one of the larger foreign courts. England possibly or Japan but I think he would really like to return to Lincoln to make his home.

Among Pershing's other Lincoln friends is John T. Dorgan but Mr. Dorgan has rather different ideas of the general's probable future than some of his former associates. Mr. Dorgan speaks forcibly when he says:

If Daves and Coolidge are elected and want General Pershing to have a place in the cabinet or to accept an ambassadorship I am certain he would accept for Pershing would do almost anything in the world. He was a soldier at heart, so close friends are they.

However I really think he will be retired in the precise meaning of the term and I do not think he will take up any active occupation. I think he will do some writing but will not enter the business world. He will probably devote a great deal of his time to his son for he is devoted to him and very much interested in supervising his education.

'Not in Business

I Robert Joyce and General Pershing have been friends for many years since those first Lincoln days of Pershing and I do not want to let him enter the business world.

I would prefer to see General Pershing in an executive position in preference to or in the business world. He is a figure of war and he is a figure of peace. He is a figure of peace and he is a figure of war. He is a figure of peace and he is a figure of war.

DUCKS DYING ON SANDHILL LAKES

Mysterious Malady Destroying Vast Numbers Of Game Water Fowl.

Hundreds Of Carcasses Found On One Spring-Fed Body Near Antioch.

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., Sept. 13.—With the opening of the hunting season less than a week away, duck hunters have been greatly concerned over the reports of the large number of ducks which are dying at some of the sandhill lakes. Veterinary surgeon J. M. Simpson of Alliance made a trip into the lake country south of Antioch Wednesday in company with Earl Douglas, farmer of that vicinity, and an inspection of several lakes. Eight wild ducks were brought back to Alliance. The fowl were all sick and were easily taken. Two died on the trip to Alliance. The rest will be sent to Lincoln for examination.

At Dunn lake, twenty miles south and east of Antioch, Mr. Douglas and Mr. Simpson counted 450 carcasses of ducks in less than one hour. The distance around the lake, inasmuch as there are rushes where the dead ducks could not be seen, the two men estimated at Dunn lake alone, more than 2,000 ducks have died within the past two weeks. There were hundreds of sick duck, grouse, mudhens, snipe, rail and geese in the lake. The ducks were all sick and were easily taken. The sick ducks were blind or nearly so.

The condition of the lake, according to Dr. Simpson, has nothing to do with the death of the ducks. Dunn lake, where the casualties are heaviest, is fed by underground springs, and the water is clear as crystal and seemingly in good condition. Goose lake, a few miles distant, is one of the most strongly alkaline of the sandhill chain, and not a single dead duck was observed at this lake.

Several of the wild fowl were sent to Dr. L. Van Es of the state department of animal pathology and hygiene for the first of the week, and a microscopic examination was made of them. The ducks were so badly decomposed on arrival at Lincoln, however, that no accurate conclusions were possible. According to a letter received from Dr. Van Es, "There was no evidence of infectious disease present in the carcasses," he stated. "It may be, however, that putrefaction caused the disease-producing factors to be already destroyed."

Alliance Ready For Dairy Train

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., Sept. 13.—When the Burlington dairy special leaves Alliance October 16, Alliance business men will give away at least five good hammers to the farmers who assemble, in addition to the purchased milk which will be exchanged for a Box Bute county farmer's scrip.

Alliance merchants are making special plans for the day the dairy train makes its Alliance stop, and it is believed that very few of the towns visited by the special will have a more interesting program prepared for the day.

Johnson to Coach Springfield Teams

(Special to The Star.)

SPRINGFIELD, Neb., Sept. 13.—T. M. Johnson of Lincoln will again be in charge of athletics at Springfield high school this year. Springfield made a good showing last year under the direction of Coach Johnson.

It Happens Every Day

He wanted to rent a good room—a regular one, with light, fresh air, sunshine, hot water and all the comforts of home he could get.

After walking around to all the places he could find, he began to figure that a room like this must be a myth. He could find plenty of rooms, but not THE ROOM.

Some of the rooms were all right, except for one or two things, and others would have done finely, if something or other hadn't been the matter with them.

He wasn't any more particular than you or I, but he knew what he wanted and that he ought to be able to get it. So he hunted and hunted—

And Then He Called B1234!

The next day he had phone calls and letters from all over the city, telling him that he certainly could get what he wanted.

And he picked out the best one and moved in—amongst all the sunshine, fresh air and hot water he wanted!

Jefferson County Rural School Has High Of Its Own

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Sept. 13.—A few years ago the proposition of consolidated high school was agitated in several rural districts north of Fairbury. A mass meeting was called and the proposition was turned down. District 17, known as the Fowler district, with seven rural school graduates last spring, felt that the expense at $108 for each student in some high schools could be too much, so decided to build a district school. The ninth and tenth grades to care for its own pupils rather than to send children so young in years away to school at a same time save $750 in tuition, and the cost of keeping the youngsters away at school.

The school house was large enough for a partition and it was divided into two rooms and Helen Timmel of Western was hired to teach the ninth and tenth grades. School opened the week of September 8. The school was open for three and a half months. The school board in district 17 estimated that sufficient tuition will be collected to make the rural high school self sustaining.

Buffalo County Fair Delayed By Continued Rains

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 13.—The weather was against the Buffalo county fair this season. Alliance Schools Have More Pupils

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., Sept. 13.—Three hundred and seventeen pupils reported for work at the Alliance high school September 8, a big increase over last year's figure of 261. A part of the gain is due to the delay in starting the school, but inasmuch as the total at the end of the first month of the previous year was only 308, the showing is regarded as indicative of a record attendance in the other schools of the city. The first day's enrollment totaled 1,140, as compared with a total of 1,100 for the first day of the previous year. This increase comes in the face of a slight decrease shown by the school census this summer.

ASSERT DEFENSE TEST A SUCCESS

(Special to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—America's "citizen army" is ready for defense of the nation if need arises.

This was the outstanding conclusion drawn tonight by war department officials after detailed study of reports of Friday's defense test demonstrations. The regular army, the national guard, the reserve forces and the citizen army, know what to do should mobilization be necessary to meet an emergency.

Furthermore, it was announced, more than 1,000,000 men "sprung to arms" as a direct result of Defense test demonstrations. Although, in time of peace it is separated into three components for purposes of administration, it is in reality a solid, tangible unit, in the organization and support of which every individual and community has not only a personal interest but certain functions and duties which they are expected to perform.

Secretary Weeks declared the test showed it to be possible for the United States to mobilize without delay an army of approximately 2,000,000 men.

HUNDREDS FIGHT STUBBORN BLAZE

(Special to The Star.)

PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 13.—Halted temporarily along the western front by a force of several hundred men, the worst forest fire in the history of Southern California probably will be under control or partial control by morning, according to reports received here by courier tonight.

The famous Carnegie observatory, with its one hundred inch telescope and other invaluable scientific equipment, is in no immediate danger.

Six hundred men, into squads struggled through the day, clearing two fire breaks, which it is believed, will keep the flames from reaching the Carnegie observatory.

Yet there are many homes in this very town—which have no bathtub. Worse than that, they have no hot and cold running water.

"Light Discourages Crime"

—SAY OMAHA POLICE

Omaha police and others repeatedly stated that light discourages crime.

"Crime shuns the light but prowlers find a working paradise in a darkened house or storeroom," said Chief of Police Dillon.

The shining porch light, the bright house lamp, the lighted garage and store room are warning signals to the criminal that someone is stirring about.

Light provides you and yours with additional security against night visits by thieves.

"It will be worth the cost." The cost in Lincoln is almost insignificant, because of the extremely low electric light rate here.

Provide Security Against Night Prowlers. Burn a light all night.

Lincoln Woman Has Collection Of Old Clocks; Says You Must 'Love Them' To Make Them Run

When Mrs. Barkley was unable to find anyone who could make the "old" or "antique" clock keep time, she called on a well-known clock maker, and the result was that the clock is as good as new.

"You can't make them to minute," she says. "There is no joy in making these things unless you love them, and if you have real love for them, you can make them do almost anything." Mrs. Barkley says she is spending the winter of 1924-25 in Europe, and she will be back in Lincoln in the spring.

Imported from England when the United States was still a British colony, this remarkable old clock keeps virtually perfect time. Its large face above the mahogany base is lettered in Roman numerals, and above the clock face is a small picture of a person whose identity has not yet been ascertained.

The clock is a part of the collection of Mrs. Barkley, who is a member of the Lincoln Historical Society. She has a collection of old clocks, and she says that she loves them and that they love her.

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO MINERVA

A Loyal Group of Women Are Standing By a Girl in Trouble and Disproving Theories Long Broadcasted That Women Will Not Stick Together and That Once a Girl Goes Wrong She Is Down—They Hope Also to Make the Man Suffer Some of the Consequences—Other Questions Answered And Discussed.

Loyal Women.

Dear Minerva: What I have to say may be of no interest to you or your readers but I hope that it will be.

All of my life I have heard the following three theories, that:

First, Once a girl goes wrong she is down.

Second, Women will not stick together.

Third, A man must bear the consequences of his own acts.

I am out to prove that the first two are false and that in one instance at least the latter is true.

I am acquainted with a girl that I have learned to love very much.

A girl who is well educated and accomplished, not pretty but good to look upon. A girl that little children and the very old love to the point of worship.

She has no father and after a few brief months of marriage was left a widow at the age of twenty.

She has been the most remarkable person I ever saw to stand up for the fellow who was down and out and her whole creed seemed to "play the game square," and always has she sought to save the other person trouble even at the expense of herself.

I don't think she ever refused anyone help in her life and I know she has gone to great lengths to save them trouble.

Do not picture her as a saint. She isn't. She is just a girl like you meet every day.

Once when a crowd of girls were discussing a recent scandal I heard her say "I don't care much for what folks say. It's being able to look myself in the face and to know that I can trust myself to be square that counts with me. I don't believe half of this anyway."

Then came a man (?) just a short time back and this dear little girl—a girl who has never been well—fell head for him.

She is now expecting his child. Characteristic of her she tried to save him as much as she could and oh, but he has been dirty. The only thing she asked was that he be "good" to her and even her moral support. He has failed her and she has failed him.

He has failed her and she has failed him. He has failed her and she has failed him. He has failed her and she has failed him.

Her nurse told me it would be much better if she could be helped now. For "I don't think she will live," she said, "but she has been left to fight it out alone."

Her nurse, a friend of mine, told me and begged me to get him to stand by her. I went to her and talked to her and Minerva, she said that she couldn't make him help her. "I don't even want to hurt him," she said, and I can never forget how she sobbed.

She is standing by that brute with her life. And for her trouble she has questioned the baby's life. Is he I think he must have accused her of everything a man could.

Well he can't make her friends think she isn't square.

I promised her I wouldn't tell and I lied. I called to my apartment four girls including a nurse and a friend from out of the city and we have pledged to stick until the end.

None of us have any money but we are going to make an effort to raise some. And the girl from out of the city has offered her home.

And not only are we going to stick but we are going to see that the man pays a little too.

How he would hate for his friends to know it.

We are going to give him all the chance in the world to help and if he doesn't do it then it's our turn. We will help her. And we have sworn vengeance on his head.

We want the girls and the fellows where he works to know that he got a dedicated girl in trouble and deserted her. We want it known where he lives and back in his home town and I don't know what we will do if he should come out of this baby comes all of his life he has got to know it is on earth.

It will be kept before him, no matter where he goes.

Tonight I came to her. I begged her to make him help her. "I can't," he hates me," she sobbed. "I don't wish him harm. I have enough hell for both of us," is what she says.

Minerva, she will stick until the end and will not hurt him.

"Do you feel badly about it?" I asked her. "I'm numb from hurt because he just goes to me but I don't let it make me hard. I want it to make me a better woman."

Poor little thing. She may never live to be any better but don't tell me that because she is down a girl like that won't come back.

And don't tell me that women won't stick together. There are six of us and we will at least make a stab at proving that a man must bear the consequences of his sin. At least that this one will.

A. This is a very fine thing that you and your women friends are doing and I am proud of you.

I believe that the modern woman, and particularly the business woman, is developing a loyalty, a staunchness, an ability to look an unpleasant matter squarely in the face and judge it with justice, such as was not generally known in the past.

Women have not stood together as have the men because their lives were more or less isolated. They had been trained to group thinking and working. And I believe that our modern methods of life, our organizations of women for common causes, our greater liberties, our freedom, are sowing good seed.

I am very sure your little friend can "come back" after her experience in misery and particularly since she has such true friends to support her. She cannot lose faith in humanity with such an example of the blessedness of humanity before her.

Please let me know if we can help in any way. Also let me know further of the welfare of the girl.

WEeping WATER TEACHER

Miss Ruth Westrope left last week for Weeping Water, where she will teach sixth grade work in the public schools the coming year. She was also chosen coach of the Girls' High school basketball team. Miss Westrope is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

More Ginger and Snap.

Dear Minerva: I am a woman fifty-three years old and have my hair bobbed a short bob and will say it certainly is comfortable to have short hair. I am sorry Gingersnap is so narrow-minded as to say women are low who have bobbed hair and especially the woman he speaks of "cut a half dozen kids," as he expresses it.

I am blessed with a half dozen kids and I should have their hair bobbed and my own and we would all be comfortable and I do not consider it would lower the old one.

We hope Gingersnap would feel terribly sorry if he was compelled to eat food that caused discomfort to his stomach simply because his wife liked that kind of food. We hope Gingersnap will broaden out and be less narrow-minded.—HAPPY.

Dear Minerva: My anger flamed up again when I read that letter from Gingersnap. You are one of those fanatics on the anti-bob question it seems to me. You'd crawl in a hole and pull the hole in after you. I suppose your wife's head is her own. If I were your wife I'd bob my hair, then you could either stay or leave. I'll bet a cookie you'd stay and be mighty glad of the chance. I don't doubt but what she does have her hair bobbed now.

My mother is almost forty-eight and has four children. I am the only girl and eldest of the four. I'm nineteen and of course I have bobbed hair. Mother has bobbed hair and she hasn't stooped so low either. Whenever a man thinks he can do for a woman the thing that suits her best he'd better think again.

"Give me liberty or give me death," shouted Patrick Henry and that's what I say.

I like bobbed hair. It's easy to comb, easy to shampoo and easy to keep pretty. I've never urged bobbed hair for my friends but I surely like it.

Dear Minerva: I am a young lady of seventeen and am torn between two desires and want you to help me out of my heart-breaking difficulties.

I have been going with a young man for the past two years, and two months ago we became engaged. I always did think a lot of him and took my feeling for him to be that of the right kind of love.

Now dear Minerva, I met The Man. Last month I met The Man. I met him at a week-end party and we both enjoyed each other's company. Now, Minerva, don't tell me I was untrue to my fiancé because it just happened that he was not invited. I had to enjoy myself somehow.

I told this second boy that I was engaged but he said that his love for me was the kind that could not be quenched. He wants me to have a talk with my fiancé and tell him everything.

I really do like the second boy better than the first and believe that this is true love and would always love him this way. The boys are both good looking and are both well respected in this city and are both well provided for and have the best of parents.

I am afraid, Minerva, that if my fiancé finds out it might hurt him terribly and yet since I have met the second boy I don't believe that I could possibly feel the same toward the first one.

Please, oh please, help me out of my trouble and advise me in the right way.

I don't have any real close relatives and don't feel like taking my feelings to a stranger to be talked about. I know that your advice is always like a mother's and so am coming to you.—VERY BLUE.

If you are sure this time of your emotions, and that you love the second young man and not the first, then by all means break the engagement with the first young man. But be very sure that you are not yielding to an impulsive emotion which does not have a firm foundation before you do anything so drastic. I do not mean to be sure that you have feathered the nest of your second affair before you give up the first. Not at all.

Dear Minerva: I noticed the article "His Wife's Glory," by Gingersnap. Now if you feel inclined to publish these few lines in answer to him he might be able to see himself as others see him.

I for one think Gingersnap shows his ignorance by merely opening his mouth and saying a woman is stooping low to have her hair cut and that the short cut is for men only because of their work.

I'll say now that some men do not work enough to make them eligible to have their hair cut and I'll venture to say old "Snap" is one of them. I wonder if my bobbed-haired girl friends can stretch their imagination far enough to see how well Gingersnap's name coincides with that said article.

"Very, very small" in every way. Brown with rust and awfully wrinkled or you might say, cracked on top.

It has been said that if you keep still no one knows you are ignorant but when you open your mouth you remove all doubt.—FOUR STRAIGHTS.

Looks Are Deceiving

It is easy to be deceived when buying cheese; much of it looks alike, and much is made to look like Kraft Cheese.

But size or shape or even appearance has little to do with quality and flavor of cheese, and it's in quality and flavor where Kraft Cheese surpasses all others.

We put the Kraft label on all genuine Kraft Cheese so that you will not be deceived by "looks." That label will direct you to the best to be had in cheese.

Solace and More.

Dear Minerva: I have so far been a silent reader of your Mail.

I am coming to you for advice. I am a junior in high school. I am considered very good looking by all my friends. Two years ago I met a young man who is my ideal. I went with him quite often during these two years but I don't care to go regularly with anyone. But my trouble is this, Minerva. He won't take any interest in me any more because an intended friend was true and told false tales on me to him. Do you think he did right to do this way? He was coming over here and stopped in town and heard the awful news; then he called and said he could not come and he has not been here since. I can't talk and straighten things up for him. He says he is my friend like always but he doesn't act it.

Minerva, it is breaking my heart. I really can't bear the thought of losing him for I think so much of him and he seemed to like me until that awful night. I could have other dates but I won't take them. Am I doing right? Do you think he really cared for me or was he pretending?

Now, Minerva, please advise me how to win him back (if possible).

I'll say now that some men do not work enough to make them eligible to have their hair cut and I'll venture to say old "Snap" is one of them. I wonder if my bobbed-haired girl friends can stretch their imagination far enough to see how well Gingersnap's name coincides with that said article.

University Notes

Two new professors on the faculty of the teachers college have arrived to enter upon their duties. Dr. F. E. Henzlik, professor of school administration, completed the work for the doctorate in Columbia university, majoring in school administration. Before going to Columbia he spent several years in the public schools of Missouri, having had experience from the rural school to the superintendency of a system of schools.

Dr. O. H. Werner, associate professor of the principles of education, holds the degree of doctor of philosophy from Columbia university. His experience has been in practically every field of education from the rural school to the university. He has served as principal of high school, superintendent of public schools, and instructor in college. He taught in the second summer term, filling the place left vacant by Sup.
